Streamline Your Operations with MyMedistri - Medistri

Streamline Your Operations with MyMedistri

At Medistri, we believe in empowering our customers with tools that simplify complexity. That's why we're thrilled to introduce MyMedistri, our brand-new web app designed to transform how pharmaceutical, biotech, and medical device companies manage their sterilization and supply chain operations.

What is MyMedistri?

Imagine having the ability to streamline your operations, gain real-time visibility, and collaborate with your global teams—all from one intuitive platform. MyMedistri is that solution, built to save time, reduce errors, and give you complete control over your operations.

With features tailored to the needs of our industry, MyMedistri makes it easier than ever to manage your orders, certificates, and workflows, helping you focus on what matters most: innovation and growth.

How Does It Work?

With MyMedistri, you can:

- Create Orders in Seconds: Build new orders directly from validated customer cards or reorder with just 3 clicks.
- Track Orders in Real Time: Know exactly where your products are—whether in transit, sterilization, or ready for shipment.
- Choose Sterilization Locations: Select between Switzerland or Hungary based on your specific needs, all within the app.
- Access Certificates Instantly: View and manage certifications, billing, and compliance records from one centralized dashboard.
- Collaborate Globally: Work seamlessly with teams across multiple countries, assigning tasks and sharing visibility in real time.

The launch of MyMedistri isn't just about improving processes – it's about transforming how businesses operate in the global supply chain.

By centralizing operations and introducing smart, time-saving tools, we're enabling our customers to:

- Save hours of administrative work.
- Improve accuracy and reduce costly errors.
- Accelerate decision-making with real-time data.

As an industry-first platform, MyMedistri reflects our commitment to driving innovation and delivering solutions that enhance efficiency and transparency.
